

RETURNED FROM CALIFORNIA

Iris Pribble and his mother arrived Sunday from California where they had gone to accompany a family, a Mr. and Mrs. Barry and children, who will make their home in that state. Iris and Mrs. Pribble combined business with pleasure or put the other way around. They have heard about the California flowers all their lives and as florists they really went to study this line of business, and to see the mountains, the streams and the Pacific.

AT SWEDONIA

Rev. John P. Hardesty, Baptist pastor at McCaulley, will conduct a revival at Swedonia, beginning next Sunday at 11:00 A. M.

All friends of the community are cordially invited to attend and aid in the services.

The East Texas pine belt area is as large as the State of Indiana, according to Texas Planning Board statisticians.

DON MORRIS TALKED

TO McCAULEY BOOSTERS

McCaulley, April 29.—Vice President Don H. Morris, of Abilene Christian College, was guest speaker for the McCaulley Booster Club, Tuesday evening, April 27, at the Methodist Church.

The banquet menu was served by the Senior Class of the high school. The girls' quartet of the high school rendered several vocal numbers. President Garland Davis was toast master. Prof. Melvin Courtney, a teacher in the local school, and an alumnus of A. C. C., introduced Dr. Morris.

Other out-of-town visitors were Mrs. Don H. Morris, J. W. Ezell, president of the Farmers and Merchants National Bank, and Paul Cain and Cecil Eivens, employees of the bank, Hamlin.

Mrs. W. H. Harrison returned last week from a visit with her father in Wichita Falls. She returned via San Antonio, where she visited her daughter, Mrs. Jack R. Ward, who was formerly Miss Lavera Harrison, a graduate of the 1934 class of the Hamlin High School. Mr. Ward is a Sergeant in the civilian branch of the U. S. Military Police force at Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Life's hardest ups and downs are keeping up appearances and keeping down expenses.

SOCIAL HYGIENE

LECTURE MONDAY

A Special Committee of the Hamlin Parent-Teacher Association, announces a very important event at the Hamlin High School Auditorium, Monday night, May 3rd, at 8:00 o'clock.

The Hamlin school patrons and the general public are urged to avail themselves of this opportunity of hearing Dr. J. P. Gibson, on the subject of Social Hygiene.

Dr. J. P. Gibson is the College physician of Abilene Christian College, and is highly endorsed by reputable physicians. Remember the time and place and the subject — a very important and interesting one to everybody.

This address is being given under the auspices of the Hamlin Parent-Teacher Association with the view of disseminating needed professional information to the physiological and psychological changes that occur during the adolescent age of children.

Children between the ages of 12 and 18 WILL ACQUIRE knowledge concerning their physical changes at this period of life. Too often this knowledge is gotten from the wrong source and is very harmful and leads to the living of a degraded, shameful life. Just how such knowledge should be acquired and by whom given are questions of vital interest to parents, and Dr. Gibson will ably handle this subject next Monday evening.

Come and join us in combating some of the social evils so prevalent among our young people.

This is a rare opportunity to receive counseling and advice on such an important adolescent subject. Everybody is cordially invited to hear Dr. Gibson.

The Hamlin Parent-Teacher Association has sent special invitations to all parents on the scholastic roll in this district and no one should let this opportunity pass. And that does not mean just those getting such letters about the program but all people who are interested are urged to come.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION WILL CLOSE YEARS WORK

The Hamlin Parent-Teacher Association will meet for the last time this school year on Thursday, May 6, at the High School Auditorium.

An installation ceremony for the incoming officers and chairman of standing committees will be staged.

Mrs. F. B. Moore will have charge of the program which will be on appreciation.

Mrs. Mac Brundage will give review of this years work and suggestions for next years plans will be made. You are urged to make this last meeting the most profitable one. Be present.

MRS. E. SELLERS DIED

SATURDAY, APRIL 24

The Neinda community was saddened last Saturday by the death of Mrs. Eli Sellers, who had made that community her home for many years.

Mrs. Sellers had been in very poor health for about four years, and at the time of death she was 47 years, 9 months and 24 days of age. She was born in Oklahoma in 1889 and came to Texas at the age of nine years. She was united in marriage to Eli Sellers in Wood County, Texas, in 1904 and to this union there were five children, four boys and one girl. Two children died in infancy. Those surviving along with their father are Mrs. T. G. Hodges, of Post, Texas, Bill Sellers of Neinda, and Vernon Sellers of Big Spring. All of the children were present.

Mrs. Sellers had been a faithful member of the Baptist Church, with her membership at Neinda.

Funeral services were conducted at the Neinda Church Sunday afternoon, in the presence of a great number of friends and neighbors. Rev. Cundiff, Rev. Bateman and Rev. Crumpley had parts in the service.

Burial was in the Mt. Hope Cemetery at Anson, in charge of the Barrow Company of Hamlin.

We are very sorry to state that we are losing our demonstrator that we have had, Miss Jean Day, but we are hoping her good luck in another county.

We also hope that we are satisfied with our new demonstrator.

In our last meeting, April 16, we had fourteen members present and four visitors. We hope some day that the visitors will be members of our club. We are sorry that our report was late and hope it won't happen again.—REPORTER.

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. A. Tinsley enjoyed a general surprise visit of all their children. Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Sallis and little son, Harold, of Dallas, were accompanied by a neighbor, Miss Hutchenson; Harry Tinsley, also of Dallas, and the home boys, Marvin and Edwin, made up a family circle unbroken.

SPRINGTIME IS CLEAN-UP TIME

You can see signs of spring fever almost everywhere. Farmers are plowing and sowing their fields. Suburbanites are planting their gardens. Housewives are cleaning and re-vamping homes. Communities are starting improvement projects.

Winter is apt to be a time of general neglect—partly because of severe weather and partly because of the press of other matters in that busy season. Vacant lots, yards and even streets become unsightly. Now is the time for a thorough spring cleaning, extending through the community, in the interest of health, safety and civic progress.

Such a clean-up campaign is a splendid activity for civic clubs, chambers of commerce, Boy Scouts and similar groups to sponsor. Every town should emulate those communities which, through a spirit of fine co-operation, have succeeded in gaining the name of "Spotless town."

When a movement to paint up, clean-up and beautify sweeps a community, it leaves in its wake a healthier, happier town. From the standpoint of fire safety alone, the movement pays big dividends—as the records show, many a disastrous fire has been caused by rubbish and litter. Drop a cigarette or a cigar into an accumulation of trash and a conflagration may follow—furthermore, piled rubbish is always susceptible to spontaneous ignition.

Carry out the clean-up campaign by carefully burning all trash in incinerators and under close supervision. Every citizen and every business will benefit—socially and economically.—Industrial News Review

PAN-AMERICAN Exposition

The Herald has received a very attractive "supplemental" copy of the Texas Almanac, as a compliment from the Pan-American Greater Texas Exposition at Dallas. This brings Texas right up to the last notch and will contribute much to the information of the thousands of out-of-state visitors to Dallas this summer and fall. The big show is still on and perhaps as many Texas people will attend this year as was counted at the Texas Centennial last year.

We note that the price of the "supplement" is only 20 cents post-paid. This will enable many people ignorant of Texas to have authentic information that can not be had so easily anywhere else.

This Greater Texas Pan-American Exposition should do much to bring the nations south of the United States, into a friendly neighborliness with us. To really know one another contributes to friendliness and that means trade and progress. None of us in Texas can hardly keep up with Texas. It is hard to know Texas.

A soldier went to his colonel and asked for leave to go home to help his wife with the spring house cleaning.

"I don't like to refuse you," said the colonel, "but I've just received a letter from your wife saying that you are no use around the house."

The soldier saluted and turned to go. At the door he stopped:

"Colonel, there are two persons in this regiment who handle the truth loosely, and I'm one of them. I'm not married."

"Just one more question, Uncle."

"Well, well, what is it?"

"If a boy is a lad and has a step-father, is the lad a stepladder?"

MAN ONCE FRIGHTENED BY OIL ADS

CHANGES TO OIL-PLATING

In spite of everything, it paid him to take ads seriously, you see, else he might never have tried Oil-Plating. First of all he was impressed by the explanation of Oil-Plating.

Simple enough, if you'll think what happens as Johnny's dirty little hands touch the wallpaper. Anything greasy or oily on his hands becomes quite a permanent part of the paper. You'll say permanent!

In much the same way—forgetting technicalities—Conoco Germ Processed oil forms a lasting attachment for every working part of your engine. This union of oil and metal to produce a genuine, enduring Oil-Plating is brought about only by the Germ Process—patented.

Thus the Germ Process not only multiplies the strength of the usual flowing type of oil-film, but creates Oil-Plating besides. And once Oil-Plating goes on, Conoco Germ Processed oil does not let it come off in minutes, hours, days . . . or any number of miles.

Unable to run off while the car stands, Oil-Plating kills the old fear of starting "dry." Likewise Oil-Plating refuses to let go in all the fury of 5,000 revolutions per minute. That's why your "good old car" or the latest model will stay more like new, with its engine Oil-Plated. And your whole Summer's driving will take less Conoco Germ Processed oil. Mmes. B. M. Brundage, W. R. Calhoun, R. D. Moore, Jr., Loyd Sebastian and Dewey Gildon, members of the Woman's Literary Club, of Hamlin, attended the First District meeting of Texas Federated Womens Clubs which was held in Wichita Falls, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week.

Mrs. Brundage, the incoming president of the Woman's Literary Club, acted as official delegate for her club, and she will give a report of the meeting to the club at the Spring breakfast to be held Friday morning in the home of Mrs. G. R. Bennett.

TEACH THEM HOW

The most dangerous group of drivers, according to statistics, is the group which ought to be the safest: The so-called "teen-age" class. When a person of eighteen or younger has an accident it is almost a serious one. It is 42 per cent more likely to be fatal than if an older driver were involved.

In the opinion of authorities, the chief difficulty is that young people who drive cars lack both training and judgment. They have had no formal instruction behind the wheel. Usually they learn to drive by watching older persons or a young companion. In this way they learn bad practices along with good ones, and being young, they are apt to exaggerate the bad and minimize the good. As one bad apple contaminates a barrel, one poor driver can create dozens of worse ones if he attempts the role of teacher.

Fortunately, the high schools of the nation are recognizing a responsibility for these facts. According to the safety education division of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, some five thousand high schools in more than half the states are now giving instruction in the principles of traffic safety. Some schools are actually teaching their students how to drive by giving real road training in real cars. Three states, California, Indiana, and North Carolina, have made such instruction compulsory, while state departments of education in 28 states have issued model courses in study in traffic safety. The subject of good driving has become the fastest growing movement in the history of American education.

Already there are significant results. In Rhode Island, more than a thousand high school boys and girls were taught to drive in a course sponsored by the Motor Vehicle Department of that state. Their driving records were kept in a special file for a period of three years. In all that time not one of the youngsters was involved in a reportable accident and not one was convicted of a traffic violation. Outstanding educators say there is no greater function for education than teaching children how to do better, the things they may expect to do in life. Certainly, teaching them how to drive motor cars so as not to kill themselves or others, fits neatly into that definition.—Industrial News.

The usual admission fees will be charged at the gate.

JEALOUSY THE PITFALL OF THE MARRIED THIRTIES

You've grown away from me, Harold," she presently finds opportunity to say to him tremblingly. "Oh, yes you have; don't try to deny it! You never want to do anything with me any more."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

WHEN women speak of jealousy in marriage they usually think of that rather flattering and exciting condition of affairs when the adoring male smashes china and grits his teeth while muttering: "You shan't dance with him again, you provoking little beauty, or I'll break every bone in your exquisite body!"

This is the jealousy of movies and novels. Many a wife of a quiet, reasonable, unjealous husband secretly wishes that something of this sort would break the calm of her domestic security. It might be rather fun to be married to a jealous brute for a while.

"He's insanely jealous!" reiterates the idiot girl in "June Moon" complacently. The audience suspects by this time that the man is completely done with her, but she goes on with her placid repetition. "He's insanely jealous!"

Women rather like to think their men are jealous; jealous in that exciting, dramatic way that is a tacit way of saying: "All the other men admire my wife. But not one of them can get her away from me!"

But this isn't real jealousy. This, like so many of the other things we take seriously when we are young and in love, is only one more mask held up before the deceitful face of Mother Nature. It is one more maneuver to make men and women attractive to each other. Courtship is full of these little deceptions; his sweetheart's stammer will enchant a man, her business inefficiencies amuse him, her tardiness seems to him just an indication that she is no more than a delightful baby. But in a wife, stammering and extravagance and tardiness somehow lose their charm.

And so with jealousy. A piquant sauce for the engagement, it proves much too hot a seasoning for the everyday fare of matrimony. It becomes tiresome, stupid, cumbersome, a continual annoyance—an unnecessary trial added to the real problems of life. The wives of jealous men carry a double burden—they have to give up much that would be pleasant and valuable in their lives; friendships, contacts, responsibilities, opportunities for self-expression and development must all be sacrificed. "Because you know how Harold is. It makes him perfectly WRETCHED to have me interested in anything but him."

But the husbands of jealous women have an even harder time. Women are more often jealous than men; they have more imagination when they are jealous, and they have more time to think about it. The result—or rather one result of this state of affairs—is the shoal of letters I receive from completely wretched wives.

Completely wretched because jealousy is really an insidious poison, actually affecting the body, causing a total upset of the digestive and eliminative functions and a sort of flurry of the brain. Women, seized by a jealous rage, temporarily go mad. They watch, listen, search for evidence in a sort of silent fury; everything the most innocent man does or says is construed into a damaging admission. The woman loses all her charm, all serenity, all reason. She defeats her own ends by making herself homely, dull, unattractive.

Even worse than this occasional burst of sex-jealousy is that more subtle form the green-eyed monster takes when a wife becomes jealous of her husband's life. Not of any other woman, particularly, not of his mother or sister or old-sweet-heart friend; but of everything.

This phase usually comes along in the thirties. A woman's life is full of physiological and psychological crises, and this is one of them. Having had everything her own way for thirty-five years, she feels a sudden lull in her affairs, and when she realizes that that lull has not come to her husband she resents the situation, and acute and sometimes fatal jealousy is the result.

Her household is running smoothly, her children are in schools, her life is bounded by a comfortable home, a car, a club, buying heavy clothes in autumn, light clothes in spring, making club reports and hospital calls, selecting Christmas presents and ordering dinners, growing older every minute—good heavens, how boring it all is! Her friends are all doing the same thing. There's no escape; the joy and glamour and excitement of life are over, and she is just that nice Mrs. Harold Baker whose little girls are finishing grammar school.

Profoundly discontent, she looks at her partner, that pleasant young Harold Baker that she met at Rhoda's fifteen years ago, and perceives, to her resentment, that he is just reaching the point when life is all pleasant and satisfying to him. The business that was for so many years a question of hard work and humiliations, is running more smoothly; Baker is one of our best men, Baker is the man for the promotion. The children, who used to cause such anxious consultations, whose coughs and measles and bumps and naughtiness broke into so many plans by day and so many hours of sleep by night, are friendly little craft sailing their own waters now.

He plays good bridge, his golf at least provides endless hours of companionship with his kind in the open air, he goes on business trips, hunting, fishing week-ends. He goes to stag dinners at the club. Healthy and interested and busy, in his rosiest, most invigorated mood, he comes down to a pale, fretted wife at breakfast. He's going to lunch with Smith and clinch that order, he's going up with Jones to look at that new club site; they'll get a bite of dinner at the club. He ha-ha's over the day's comic strip; he approves of the stock market; he has a little flirtation with his younger daughter, who ends it with an, "I love you, Dad," that sends him away humming.

His wife looks on at all this with a jaundiced eye. Stag dinners and lodge meetings and golf games and bridge clubs indeed!

"You've grown away from me, Harold," she presently finds opportunity to say to him tremblingly. "Oh, yes you have; don't deny it! You never want to do anything with me any more. You've always got plans of your own. I'm at home with the children, cooking and making beds—"

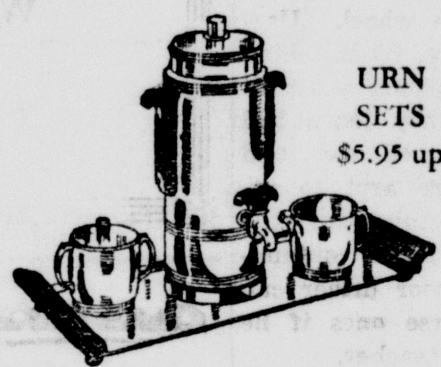

This goes on for a long time. It makes the man uncomfortable; he knows it isn't fair somehow, but he doesn't know what to do about it. It makes the woman even more miserable than she was, and, having manufactured the situation, she proceeds to enlarge upon it until she feels like an actual martyr because she is self-centered and jealous, and her husband happens to be a normal human being who has earned his freedom, earned his recreations and satisfactions, and is enjoying them.

The answer is that we women have to adjust ourselves to the changing conditions of our lives once in about every ten years. We have to examine our own souls severely, in the light of truth and common sense, and ask ourselves if we are behaving like women or like fools. We have to put gold into the bank of life before we can begin to draw upon it. No use, at thirty-three, to long to be the bride of twenty-three again, or the girl of thirteen, or the toddling baby of three. We have to go on!

What is that gold? Well, to some of us it seems more precious than ever the younger coin did. It is the gold of a ripely developed character, in the years that are the very bloom of womanhood. It is the gold of a life that sings; sings over garden work or the writing of poetry, sings over picnics with the dear brown, long-legged children who are growing up so fast; sings in contact with other lives—a mother's, sisters', friends' lives, and takes its part in helping them. Any woman, with the usual equipment of a child or two and a car and good neighbors, can become so busy that she will listen but abstractedly to her husband's planning; happy to be included when she is included, secretly a little grateful when she is left free for her own all-important activities.

Why admit to a man that you want more of his time and interest than it is natural for him to give you? Why have so little pride? Why acknowledge that your happiness depends upon someone else, that you are not equal to solving the problem that each one of us must eventually meet alone?

KNOW TEXAS

DENTON, Texas.—Although interest in military set-up does not run riot in Texas as in European countries today, the history of this state makes this phase of its government well worth observation.

Active military establishments in Texas seem rather small in number in comparison to the hundreds of old abandoned forts scattered around during the five different eras passed through by this part of the country. In each of these eras, the Spanish and Mexican period, the era of the Revolution and Republic, the years before the Civil War, during the war, and after that time, new forts were constructed at the changing

At present time there are nine forts in use, which, with the exception of a few old timers, date from the past Civil War period or World War days. These are located on the coastline at Galveston, Bolivar Peninsula, Galveston Island and Brownsville; on the border at El Paso, Laredo, Brackettville, and Rio Grande City; and at San Antonio, which is the only fort in the central part of Texas.

San Antonio is also the home of four military flying fields including the well-known Randolph field, Brooks and Kelly fields, all established during the world war and Dodd Field, which is attached to Fort Sam

Houston. The two training camps, Bullis and Stanley, and Normoyle Quartermaster Depot, where supplies are stored, are placed near the same city.

In Dallas is another flying field, established in 1928 and named for Col. William N. Hensley. The only military hospital in the state, Beaumont General Hospital, is situated in El Paso and attached to Fort Bliss.

HOME DEM. CLUB NEWS

At a cost of $30.00, Mrs. Phil Jeffries, second year home food supply demonstrator of the Delk home demonstration club, has a new storm cellar.

The cellar is 8 feet by 13½ feet, and is concreted. Six rows of shelves has been placed along one side for storing canned products. There is one ventilator in the top and another, built similar to a chimney, at the other end. In this way the whole cellar will be more properly ventilated.

Light colored ceiling paper helps to lighten the clothes closet of La-Nell Carlton, clothing demonstrator of the Carlton 4-H Club. A flash light placed inside the door, gives a satisfactory means of locating things easily at night.

An iron rod, parallel to the door, 2 shelves above this, and 4 shelves up one side have added to the convenience of the closet. The shelves and rod have been painted, and two shoe racks, made from old curtain rods placed in the bottom of the closet. The entire cost was $1.00.

Using a small bowl, Mrs. Dewey Raney, bedroom demonstrator of the Compere H. Dem. Club, stamped her tufted bedspread. She used white tufting thread in working out her design and has a three inch hem around the outside. The cost of her spread was only $2.50.

In laundering her spread, she soaked it three hours in warm water, then she washed it with a good laundry soap, and rinsed well, but did not wring it out. When it was about half dry she beat it on the right side with a stiff brush.

HORSE RACING

Senator Joe Hill declared on the floor of the Senate that the horse race repeal bill was being kissed to death. Many of us remember the old song: "I Wonder Who Is Kissing Her Now?" If Senator Hill is right, I wonder who is doing the kissing that is killing the horse race repeal bill that was passed almost unanimously by the House more than two months ago. Evidently this mortal kissing is not going on in the lower branch of the Legislature.

But whether it is kissing or something else, there is something happening to horseracing repeal. My opinion is the repeal bill will not carry. The good mothers and fathers aided by the zealous ministers and laymen are doomed to disappointment in their eager desire to abolish what they believe to be one of the worst moral evils ever given the sanction of law.

Viewed from the position of the man up a tree it appears that there is either too much legislative rivalry as to who will be boss in killing cock robbing or that nobody really wants to kill him at all.

The opponents of repeal are already scenting victory and say that if they can smother the bill for two weeks that then the lack of time will kill the bill and neither a kiss or a kick will be necessary to finish the legislative tragedy.

While there is a lot to sustain this hope, yet there is yet a danger of a "slip twixt the 'cup and the lip."

There is yet time to pass the bill if it is supported by energy and sincerity. With 20 or the 31 members openly declaring that they will vote for repeal if the bill is brought up, it will be a travesty on fairness if 11 members finally suppress a real honest to God consideration of the bill. It would be another example of tail wagging.

Up to now some of the Senators who may be doing some of the kissing Senator Hill is talking about have voted through friendship or otherwise for delay motions, but who are pledged to vote for repeal on final passage. These Senators now say that any further vote for delay will put them in the attitude of voting against repeal which they might not be able to explain back home. It looks to me like they might have something worse to explain.

A look at the Senate calendar discloses that there are only about 24 bills ahead of the racing bill, and only 3 of these are contested bills. The uncontested bill could be passed easily in one day, and the contested bill could be passed in 3 days and probably sooner. In view of these facts, it seems clear that the consideration of the racing bill could be disposed of in short order regardless of who is kissing or kicking it.

It may be that the jealousy over leadership of repeal may yet see the light and marshal their forces in support of the common issue regardless of personal ambition. This is what the race track owners fear and they are keeping silent for the time being.

But it will be a joke on Snyder if 10 Senators put the fixings on the other 21. If this happens, there will be more kicking than kissing next summer when the dear people will be asking: "What happened to Racing Repeal?"

PREVENT DIPHTHERIA

AUSTIN, Texas.—A health slogan applicable to May Day-Child Health Diphtheria, is designed to intensify the campaign against one of the most deadly foes of children, diphtheria, according to Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer.

If parents would have their family physician administer toxoid to their child as soon after it reaches the age of six months as possible, much suffering and many deaths could be prevented.

The administering of toxoid is a very simple procedure and causes the child little or no discomfort. In approximately ninety per cent of the children receiving toxoid, there will be established a life long immunity to this disease.

TO BE SURE, four to six months after the final dose of the toxoid, the child should be Schick tested so that parents will know definitely whether their child is immune. The test consists of just a few drops of diphtheria toxin between the layers of their skin. If the child is immune, no re-action will be noticed. If not, there will appear redness at the sight of the test that reaches its height the third or fourth day.

LEGISLATURE QUILTS

BY JIM FERGUSON

Editor's note: This article is published as a news item, and represents the personal views of Mr. Ferguson only)

The regular session of the 45th Legislature will end on the 11th day of May, 1937. While the session could be extended indefinitely, yet as the pay of the members at $10.00 a day ends on that day, following custom, usually adjourns rather than work longer for the measly sum of $5.00 a day.

If the Governor calls a special session the members pay is $10.00 a day. This makes special sessions popular with many members.

This legislature has been an eventful session. Not so much because of eventful accomplishment, but rather because of uneventful results. What the Legislature doesn't do please the people more than what they do do.

Senator John Bailey used to remark that as long as the Legislature does not legislate they will not appropriate. However, this rule will not apply to this Legislature.

In the first place people are going to be much displeased by the Legislature's failure to pass a tax bill at least sufficient to pay the actual and needed expenses of running the government. Already there is murmuring because the Legislature will soon have been in session 120 days (4 months) and after this enormous expense of some $3,000.00 a day, the necessary appropriations have not been made to carry on the government, and as a result a special session of 30 days and maybe 60 days will have to be called at $3,000 a day. Campaign discussions next year will wax warm when they begin to explain who was to blame.

The big rich merchants who charge their customers from 25 to 75 percent profit will celebrate if the Legislature does not pass a sales tax. This tax would fall the heaviest on those who are able to make large purchases of merchandise and highest on those not able to pay has been viciously fought during this Legislature by the merchant princes, and they will hold a regular war dance celebration if they can kill the bill.

But let our friends be of good cheer. No question is ever settled until it is settled right. If we lose this year, let us at once prepare to renew the contest for an equalized tax burden.

The people will not complain because the Legislature did not levy a high tax on natural resources, because they already know that they would in the end pay the price for the manufactured product. High tax on crude oil means high gasoline and lube, and the people know it. "Jones always pays the freight."

A failure to repeal the horse race bill will mean that the fight will go on and racing will be one of the big issues in next year's campaign.

The failure to do anything toward the payment of the 15 million dollar deficit of the state will not do us any good when we again attempt to tell the people of other states what a great place we are to live in.

Extravagant appropriations by the Legislature when we are 15 million dollars in the red is not a good example set by those who would lay claims to the honor of statesmanship. Let our state debts increase just a few more millions and we will be in a worse fix than the Federal government is with its 36 billion dollar deficit. Uncle Sam can pay 30 thousand easier than our state can pay 30 cents.

For the good of the state I know everybody hopes that the Governor and the Legislature will iron out their differences. I am sure both are trying to do the best they know how, but what they don't know may be the most, making it all the more necessary that they get down to their hitting and master their official duties and problems.

While I do not look for the Legislature to do much during the remainder of the session, yet I look for the call session which will have to be called soon to make a heroic effort to accomplish at least some of the things which the people expect them to do.

So boys, come on, let's go. You young boys haven't registered yet. If you do your part, you need not worry about Jimmie. He will have to do his. A little close communion right now would do good.

T. E. Hill was called to Clifton Saturday by the death of his only uncle, John Hill, who passed away Friday night, April 23. He would have been 82 in July of this year. Mrs. Hill and Clarence accompanied Mr. Hill.
